

AWARD-WINNING LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT

Many businesses know their people are capable of more, they just aren't sure how to draw it out.

That's where we come in.

About Olivier Mythodrama

Olivier Mythodrama was founded by Richard Olivier (son of actor Laurence Olivier) after a hugely successful production of Shakespeare's play Henry V. He created Mythodrama as a leadership development methodology in 1997. He went on to form Olivier Mythodrama in 2001.

Our approach combines classic stories of leadership with archetypal psychology, performance technique and organisational theory to help individuals and organisations unlock their potential, develop their personal and organisational narratives, and align their values, vision, and mission with those of their teams to promote organisational transformation.

Our unique form of executive development is not just a journey, but a practical, relevant, and profound exploration of all types of leadership challenges. It's a journey that equips leaders with the tools and insights they need to make a lasting impact.

Our clients tell us we are highly effective - "beyond world class". They describe the experience as 'life changing' and talk of our professionalism, energy, and unique experiential approach.

Rest assured, there is no acting, green tights, or wooden swords in sight, just practical insight to help you create new narratives that align with your personal and organisational goals.

One of the best, most rewarding and stimulating sessions I have ever attended. I came out of it genuinely excited by what I had heard. Amidst all the management jargon, this was something that touched a deeper core.

Our Solutions At a Glance

Our programmes are flexible enough to work on their own or as part of a wider organisational development initiatives. We work with clients to develop, design, and manage development journeys for long term personal and organisational change. We help organisations thrive by designing and managing programmes that deliver truly enduring impact, every time.

INSPIRATIONAL LEADERSHIP

Leadership lessons from Henry V

Improve your ability to communicate effectively, motivate and inspire. Unite teams around common goals, build resilience, and trust. We highlight themes of purpose, vision, motivation and inspiration in a highly interactive and experiential programme.

INFLUENTIAL LEADERSHIP

Leadership lessons from Julius Caesar

Practice new skills to influence positively, read and navigate organisational politics and create rapport. This programme helps you identify the key sources of power working both for and against you while providing you with opportunities to practice new skills to enhance your abilities to exert influence. It also stresses the importance of forging successful coalitions and the shrewd timing of interventions in political contexts.

THE ART OF COMMUNICATION

This programme explores the full range of leadership communication, from understanding the fundamentals of communication to developing strategies for managing conflicts through to handling difficult conversations and negotiation techniques. It equips you with a robust set of practical skills used by renowned world speakers, actors and other performers that help maximise your personal impact. These skills are not just theoretical but immediately applicable in your professional life.

PROFESSIONAL COACHING

Coaching is a resource that supports you to enhance your self-awareness, behavioural patterns, political and emotional intelligence. It can help you gain a deeper understanding of your leadership style and its impact on others both personally and professionally. We tailor all coaching to the individual with a focus on measurable results that have real and sustainable business and personal impact.

LEADERSHIP PRESENCE

Personal Impact & Peak Performance

Learn how to communicate with confidence, improve your leadership effectiveness and make an impact by working with your inner critic. We help leaders build on their talents for inspirational impact and increase effectiveness in everything they do.

TRANSFORMATIONAL LEADERSHIP

Leadership lessons from The Tempest

Create a climate for change, understand how it is perceived by different groups and improve your abilities to implement change. All businesses experience major shake-ups from time to time, whether due to internal initiatives or external drivers. What kind of a storm needs to be generated within your organisation? And how can you cater for the different perspectives and reactions of those within it to ensure the optimum outcome?

STORYTELLING FOR LEADERS

If leaders are not telling a powerful story, they have lost the ability to connect and engage with their teams and the story that has got you to where you are, isn't necessarily the story that will get you where you need to go. This programme explores how you can use the power of storytelling to bring communications to life, accelerate transformation in others and develop your own sense of purpose and authenticity when communicating your story to create a lasting impact.

Tailoring Our Programmes

We understand that one size does not fit all. That is why we take the time to get to know you and your organisation and to understand your unique needs and challenges.

Clarifying your intended outcomes and goals is crucial so our programmes can be tailored to address these specific challenges. It is not just about tailoring the content; each of our programmes will be uniquely designed to suit the needs and abilities of your participants, making them feel understood and valued.

We know that challenges can change from one week to the next, so that is why our programmes are designed to be agile and adaptable. People in different teams will have different challenges, and static programmes will not work. Our programme directors are experienced enough to tailor the programme to the rooms energy and needs, so the programme addresses live challenges. We do not make participants follow strict, inflexible programme outlines, as that is not beneficial to the individual or organisation.

Our commitment to your success goes beyond our immediate team. In instances where we may need to cover topics outside our expertise, we tap into our extensive network of experts. These relationships have been meticulously built and nurtured to ensure that our clients always receive seamless, high-quality training. This commitment to excellence is a testament to our dedication to providing you with the best possible learning experience.
